Making your mind up

How do I hold a date, and for how long can I hold it?

Following having a show round you can hold a date for two weeks; we will contact you after the two weeks to see how things are going and to see how we can help you.

How do I go ahead, what is the deposit?

We will send you a venue booking confirmation contract, along with our Terms & Conditions, which you will sign and send back to us to confirm your booking. The deposit is £495.00 which is non-refundable.

You can settle the deposit by BACS into our account, over the phone with a card or in person here at Field Place Manor House & Barns. Our Bank Account Details are as follows:

Bank Details – BACS

Account Name: South Downs Leisure Enterprises Ltd

Sort Code: 30-80-12

Account Number: 12082768

Bank: Lloyds Bank, City Office

The Planning Process

Once you have confirmed your booking, Harding's are informed so that their services are booked for your event. They will then contact you to guide you through the planning process and arrange a catering meeting.

Harding's are available to answer any queries you might have, either by telephone or via email, during the planning process.

Their e-mail is fieldplace@hardingscatering.co.uk

Two month's before the event, you will be asked to settle the outstanding amount on your contract with us.

The Event:

- The Field Place Manor House Team will be here to ensure your event runs smoothly, we will be in contact the week of the party so that you can come in and dress your room.
- Hardings will look after your every need and will be with you until the end of your event. The Field Place duty management team will be here until midnight too.

FAQS - Frequently Asked Questions

Are we able to use our own caterers?

Our in-house caterers are Hardings Catering, they are the only caterers that are able to provide services here at Field Place Manor House & Barns.

Do you have an easel for our table plan?

Yes, we have an easel you are welcome to use, we do not have a display board for mounting plans onto.

Is there a cloakroom we can use for guests' coats?

We have two coat racks with padded hangers that guests can use to hang their coats, one for each barn.

Are the Barns lit up at night?

Yes, the barns are flood-lit all round, and the grounds have decorative lighting along our driveway.

What noise restrictions are there?

We ask for bands and DJ's providing entertainment to be respectful of our local residents in regard to noise levels, we ensure all external doors are closed at 8pm to respect our neighbours.

Do you have a microphone we can use, and a PA system to play background music?

You are most welcome to use our PA system, where we have hand held microphones. The system also plays CD's and can plug in to iPods for play lists. It is not powerful enough to be used for the evening entertainment.

Can we have fireworks?

Due to being in a residential area, Fireworks are not permitted.

Are we allowed to have candles?

Yes, candles are permitted. They must be drip proof if in candelabra and tea lights must be housed in votive and not straight onto table linen.

What happens at the end of the evening? When do we need to remove all our things?

We ask you to remove your presents and as many of your things as you can when the event finishes, any items that cannot be taken need to be collected by 11:00am the next day.

Can we have helium balloons?

Due to the nature of the height of the barns, helium balloons are difficult to retrieve when they float up into the rafters. For this reason helium balloons are not permitted.

When can we arrive to set up?

We will liaise with you during the planning for your event and arrange a time for you to come in with any décor you may have.

How long can under 18's stay?

Children, accompanied by a relative or responsible adult are welcome throughout your event.

The History of Field Place Manor House & Barns

Grade II listed Field Place in Worthing, West Sussex, is a fine example of an 18th century English Country House.

With 14th-century origins, the house retains high-quality Jacobean oak panelling and carved fireplaces dating from 1624. The Cooke family lived in the house for over 300 years, followed by the Westbrooke-Richardson's. The Henty's, a successful farming family owned the property during the mid to late 1700's. They used their wealth to upgrade the house into a fine Georgian residence and were responsible for the present house frontage.

During the agricultural depression, the Henty's revenue declined, and Thomas Henty sailed to Australia in 1828 with his wife, their 9 children, and a flock of Merino sheep acquired from the flocks of King George III. The family found life hard in Australia, but eventually prospered. Thomas' youngest son, Francis later built a house in 1876 called Field Place in Victoria, which still stands.

Towards the end of the 19th century Col E W Margerson, who also owned Findon Place, occupied the house. In 1909, Alfred Bates purchased Field Place Manor House and spent £250,000 on renovations including the installation of an underground electrical supply. During the Second World War, the Manor House and surrounding area was used by the RAF to test early radar.

There's been much talk about a network of tunnels under Field Place. The Radar reunion people would return each year after the war and chat about tunnels as long as six miles. Before D-Day, the underground tunnels stored 500 Harley Davidsons before going over to France. The tunnels entrance was unfortunately blocked and even to this day, the whereabouts of the main entrance remain uncertain and records are protected by the 73-year secrecy rule.

The house was bought by Worthing Borough Council in 1956 for £17,500. Improvements were made, the original flint barn dated 1773 was refurbished and reopened in 1988, and used as a venue for wedding receptions, plays and dances. The Manor House was refurbished in 1989 revealing much of the original panelling and stone work.
